SMART BROADWAY

The ultimate in advanced home automation

SMART BROADWAY is an innovative cabling system that will link every room in your house or office with phone, fax, computer, cable broadband, and both free-to-air and pay TV for optimum entertainment and information flexibility.

Effortless entertainment that suits all your needs

So rather than deliberating over which room gets the TV outlet, you can connect a TV in any room where you have a BROADWAY outlet installed. You can watch a DVD on the TV in the bedroom that is being played from the DVD player in the lounge room while there's a party going on or download files from a PC in the kid's bedroom to a printer in the study.

Neat, streamlined performance

BROADWAY's multitude of features comes through a series of discreet little access points no larger than your average power point. The control box and wall outlets blend unobtrusively with your current décor. There are no cables to trip over, no unsightly boxes or plugs. And by wiring your BROADWAY system using KRONE's high performance Category 5 cable you can equip your home for services such as broadband internet, web enabled applications, MP3 music distribution, security, Pay TV and even bandwidth intensive applications such as multimedia conferencing.

SMART BROADWAY allows for the incorporation of active equipment into the central hub of the smart wired home.
